

Lt. Gen. Floyd L. Parks Accepts Pine Tree Memorial And Plaque For Pres. Eisenhower As Tank Corps Veterans Climax Reunion

The Homecoming Reunion of the World Wars Tank Corps Association closed here Saturday with the dedication of a memorial tree and plaque, a dinner and an address by Lt. General Floyd L. Parks, Second Army Commander, and a promise that "the Tank Corps Association will be back in Gettysburg for more reunions."

More than 3,000 turned out for the afternoon program that included a parade through the borough, and the dedicatory service along the Emmitsburg Rd.

Solemnity and good humor blended in all of the affairs of the veterans of Camp Colt, and nowhere was it more evident than at the dedicatory exercises.

Dedicatory Exercises

The 90-piece Second Army Band, the colors of the Albert J. Lentz American Legion Post, the colors of Gettysburg Post 15, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the killed and colorful Bagpipe Corps of the Second Army, combined with the massed throng of spectators and veterans of Camp Colt to lend an impressive dignity to the planting of the tree memorializing Camp Colt and former Captain Dwight D. Eisenhower, now President of the United States, who was commanding officer of the men in 1918.

As Thomas White, national adjutant of the Tank Corps Association, called the roll of states and described where each pound of soil was obtained, members of the association from the various states came forward to place the soil about the tree.

During that ceremony John F. MacDonald, representing South Carolina, gave the Rebel yell before placing the soil from that state. The call, coming as it did from the field where Pickett's men began their rush on the Union line recalled to most spectators that the spot where 36 years ago the men of North and South gathered as one unit to train in tanks had 91 years ago echoed to the same rebel call as the forefathers of many of those same men fought against each other in the bloodiest battle of the Civil War.

Hutton Presides

Retiring Commander Glenn Hutton, of Brenham, Texas, presided at the dedicatory service. Rev. Victor K. Meredith Jr., pastor of the local Methodist church gave the invocation and Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here, pronounced the benediction.

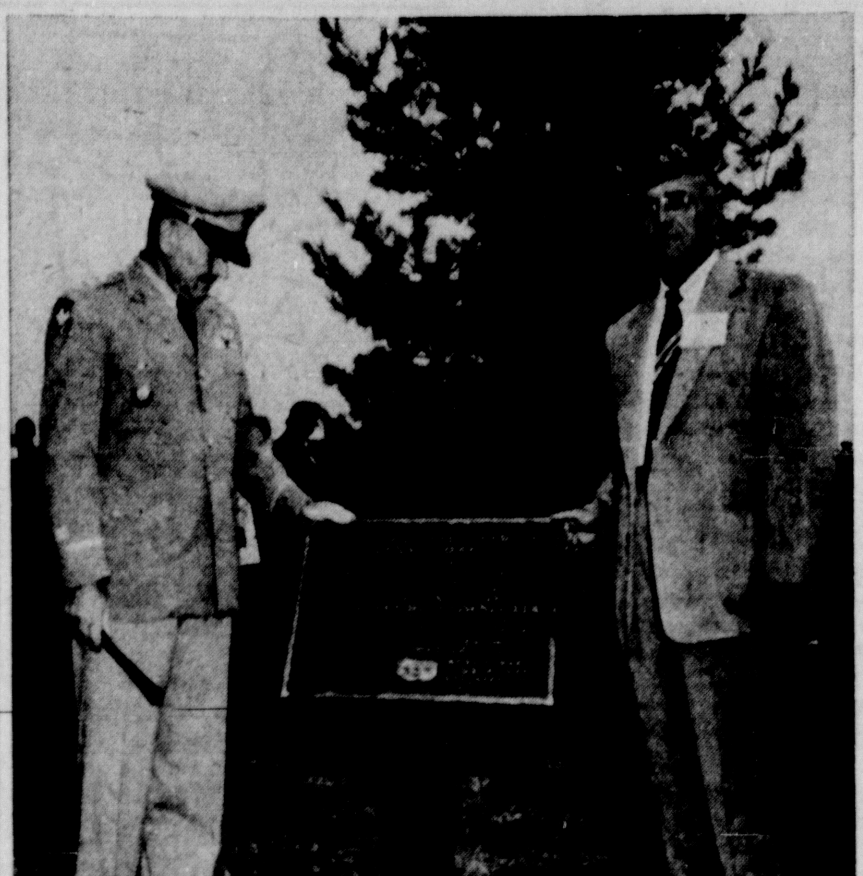

Cpls. David Moore and Thomas Miller, both of Pennsylvania, and both buglers of the Second Army Band sounded taps and the echo, and the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" to conclude the ceremony.

President Hutton presented the bronze plaque situated near the tree, and facing the Emmitsburg road, to General Parks, representing President Eisenhower and the nation.

Memorial Plaque

The plaque described aptly the story of the service: "United States Army Tank Corps. This spot marks the site of Camp Colt, the birthplace of the Tank Corps of the United States Army in the spring of 1918. Behind this marker stands a tree planted in soil from each

GENERAL PARKS IS SPEAKER AT TREE PLANTING

General Floyd L. Parks, Commander, Second Army, delivered the dedicatory address at the planting of a Pine tree to mark the site of Eisenhower's headquarters when he commanded Camp Colt on the Battlefield in 1918. General Parks was a young lieutenant here at the time.

General Parks Speaks

General Parks spoke as follows: "In these days when our institutions, our traditions, our beliefs are being challenged by a powerful and implacable international communism, we find a deep reassurance in turning to a national shrine or symbol for spiritual sustenance."

"Here at Gettysburg National Military Park we are in the very heart of American military traditions. I can think of no more appropriate spot in America to plant this pine tree which will commemorate the birthplace of the Tank Corps, which will serve as a memorial to the deceased comrades of two world wars, and which will be a testimonial to the esteem held by the Tank Corps veterans for their former commander, President Eisenhower."

"Every American knows the sentimental and historical connotations surrounding the name of Gettysburg. Old Camp Colt, birthplace of American armor, holds a similar affection in the minds of every Tanker. To plant a tree, in this particular spot, symbolizing American tank achievement, is a perfect bending of national sentiment and service pride."

On Neutral Ground

"By a happy circumstance of fate, we find this dedicatory taking place near the site of Pickett's Charge, one of the most daring attacks in history. In fact, where we actually stand is at the foot of the hill on which were the Union lines, and in sight of the Confederate lines—a territory held neither by the North nor by the South."

"Thus the pound of native soil which comes from every state in the Union, as well as from Puerto Rico, Alaska and Hawaii, will nourish the great pine tree of the Tankers in an atmosphere not only of military dash and daring, but on a spot where the old traditional rivalry of the North and of the South meets on common ground."

"The historical implications of this event have not been overlooked by the states submitting their soil. Massachusetts, for instance, went directly to the former home of one

Three persons were injured and damage totalling $1,580 in five auto accidents investigated over the weekend by State Police of the local substation.

The three were injured in a crash Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the intersection of the Mummasburg Rd. and the Blue Ribbon Orchard Rd., two miles south of Ardenstville.

Police said Charles F. Dick, 40, 131 Buford Ave., was driving east and collided with a southbound auto operated by George O. Sanders, 53, Shippensburg R. 2. Damage totalling $900.

Doctor Treats Injuries

Donald Dick, 16, son of the one driver, suffered a severe cut near the right eye and bruises of the right knee. Ruth Sower, 47, Shippensburg R. 2, an occupant of the Sanders car, had bruises of the right arm and shoulder and George Sower, 63, also of Shippensburg R. 2, and an occupant of the Sanders vehicle, had a bruised right knee. All were treated by Dr. Raymond Hale, at Ardenstville.

A change of mind caused an accident at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Biglerville Rd., approximately two miles north of here, police reported.

They said Darlyn L. Weatherly, 18, Fairfield R. 2, started a left turn and then drove back into her lane of traffic and slowed down. James Bruce Snyder, 43, Martinsburg, W. Va., following the Weatherly car, was unable to stop quickly enough and the two collided. Damage, all confined to the Snyder car, was estimated at $100.

Both were headed south. Damage totalling $400.

Damage was estimated at $10 by police following an accident Saturday morning between cars of Buddy R. Wagaman, 18, and N. J. Tauginbaugh, 61, both of Gettysburg R. 4. Police said Wagaman attempted to pass Tauginbaugh on the Gettysburg-Hunterstown Rd., and the fenders of the two vehicles touched.

PARSONAGE OF ORRTANNA EUB CLEAR OF DEBT

The parsonage of the Orrtanna EUB charge, erected a year ago, is now debt free and that accomplishment was celebrated at a special note-burning service Saturday evening at the Mt. Hope picnic ground and church, north of Fairfield. The Rev. Roger Burtner, his wife and their two children have been occupying the new home for the last year, following its dedication. The $1,900 loan from the Pennsylvania EUB conference now has been paid off.

Dr. Paul E. V. Shannon, York, Pennsylvania conference superintendent, touched a match to the note held by Carl Kepner, Sunday School superintendent at Mt. Hope Church. The note, given at the time of the dedication a year ago, was the only one in this conference which never was renewed. Dr. Shannon was the principal speaker of the evening.

The conference treasurer, Dr. Dewitt Zuse, Chambersburg, received the final check and turned over the note to Mr. Kepner at Saturday's ceremonies.

Special Music

The new parsonage is located two miles north of Orrtanna, near Mt. Carmel and the pastor resides there while he serves EUB churches of Mt. Carmel, Mt. Hope and Mt. Calvary. The Mt. Hope-Mt. Carmel Choir directed by Mrs. Ira Naugle with Mrs. Clyde Metz as pianist sang four numbers during the program Saturday and the Mt. Hope-Mt. Carmel orchestra played several selections under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Burtner.

There was a volleyball game at 4 o'clock and a picnic supper at 6:30 o'clock with the program at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Amos Funk, a former pastor of the charge and now pastor of St. John's EUB Church west of Chambersburg, attended the service. After the service, ice cream, cake and coffee were served by the Mt. Hope Sunday School.

Washington St., who was graduated as a nurse from the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania in June, will complete her training period Wednesday. She will undertake general duty as a staff nurse in one of the Philadelphia hospitals. She was graduated from Gettysburg High School in June, 1951.

L. E. ROTHHAUPT SURRENDERS HIS LIQUOR LICENSE

Lloyd E. Rothhaupt, Emmitsburg Rd., told the Adams County Court Saturday that he has "turned in" the liquor and beer license for Panorama Inn, and is seeking to "sell out," when he appeared for sentence on a charge of selling beer to minors.

Rothhaupt, who was ordered to pay a fine of $200 for the use of the county and the costs of the case, said he had closed the licensed establishment as of July 31.

Leonard P. Redding, John St., was fined $100 and ordered to pay the costs on a similar charge of selling beer to minors. L. V. Bomgardner, local liquor law enforcement agent, said one of a group of youths had purchased beer at Redding's establishment and then gave it to other "under 21" companions. The same group of young men, he said, had purchased beer at Rothaupt's.

Three Are Jailed

Richard E. Gross, 20, Spring Grove R. 2, charged with burglary and larceny of the Hanover Bowling Center, in Midway, last February, was sentenced to from six months to a year in jail and ordered to pay the costs. The sentence will begin June 21, when he was taken into custody in New Mexico.

Harry M. Spink, Harrisburg, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs on a charge of driving while under the influence and was given a suspended sentence on a charge of hit-and-run on condition he pay a fine of $100 and the costs.

Alfred "Bud" Myrick, Gettysburg, was sentenced to 120 days starting August 5 on a charge of giving a "bad check" for $10 to Charles Sample, also of Gettysburg. He was told a parole would be considered in 60 days if "everything is paid up" in the meantime. Three other "bad check" charges were dropped when those accepting the checks told the court they had agreed to "hold the checks for a period of time." The court said that in such cases the checks are used as "notes" and a "bad check" check charge cannot be brought.

DRIVER KILLED WHEN HIS TRUCK RUNS OFF ROAD

A 40-year-old farmer identified from cards in his pocketbook as George Ray, Roaring Springs R. 1, was fatally injured this morning about 11:25 o'clock when his truck left the Littlestown Rd., four miles south of here, and ran into a field at the farm of Elvin L. Chronister, R. 1. County Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist listed the cause of death as a fractured skull.

State Police said they believe Ray fell asleep and was thrown from the truck as it rolled through a hay field about 300 feet after it left the road.

The 27,000 pound truck smashed through a fence at Chronister's and then continued on an angle, north and east, off the road. Ray was found 300 feet from the road. The truck according to witnesses and its tracks, continued on for 272 more feet across a ditch and up a grade. Reaching that point it rolled back the 272 feet and stopped in the ditch. Damage to the vehicle was negligible, police said. The damage was confined to the steering mechanism and was apparently caused when the vehicle hit the ditch.

Died In Five Minutes

Chronister told police he was in the chicken house when he heard a noise and his daughter came in to tell him a truck had driven into the field. Going to the scene, he found Ray's body. The man was still alive, but died about five minutes later.

Ralph White, Littlestown car dealer, who had been traveling south, told Chronister, according to police, that he thought the driver of the northbound truck was merely pulling off the road to stop when the vehicle began its fatal journey into the field.

No Inquest

Another car, northbound, with a couple in it, stopped at the scene but when the couple found their help was not needed they continued on. Police asked the couple to contact their owner.

An owner's card found in the empty truck showed it was the property of David D. Showalter, Martinsburg R. 1.

Officials locally had not been able to locate the family of the deceased by press time. The body was turned over to Bender Funeral home here. Dr. Crist said there would be no inquest.

Henry C. Albright Is Stricken Sunday

Henry C. Albright, 63, of 34 1/2 Baltimore St., suffered a stroke early Sunday morning and was removed to the Warner Hospital, his physician, Dr. Raymond F. Sheely, described his condition today as "satisfactory."

Neighbors and police found Albright lying under the fire escape at the rear of his apartment at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, and he was removed to the hospital in the Fire Department rescue truck.

Doctor Sheely said that Albright was suffering from a paralysis of the left side of his face and arm, as a result of the stroke.

General Parks' Address At Tank Corps Dinner Saturday

The following address was given by Lt. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, Commander, Second Army, at the World Wars Tank Corps Association banquet Saturday night at the Hotel Gettysburg.

As I look over this audience, with its many familiar faces I find the reunion of the World Wars Tank Corps Association taking on many of the aspects of a family affair. And, I might add, the family seems to have done right well by itself. With its former Camp Commander now in the White House, and another of its early members Delegate to the United Nation, the tankers are covering ground, as usual.

It is a great personal pleasure, and high honor, for me to have the opportunity to participate in this reunion. I was in charge of cadet training at Camp Colt and have never forgotten those hectic early days of tank history.

Feverish Faith

We were reading our units for World War I action with little more than a prayer in the way of training material, but we all had a feverish faith in the future of tank warfare. It took a Second World War before this faith really paid big dividends — in the first World War, as you well remember, the American Tank Corps had to use British and French tanks in their eight or more engagements — but the historic sweeps of General Patton and others in World War II were the direct outgrowth of the faith and enthusiasm of the officers and the men who comprised the Corps in World War I.

Camp Colt here in Gettysburg is the birthplace of the Tank Corps, but I certainly find a good many reminders of the old Corps in my present station of Fort Mead, Maryland. Some 21 streets and roads at Meade bear the names of World War I heroes of the 301st, 327th, 344th and 345th Tank Battalions who died in the Somme and Meuse-Argonne campaigns.

And since 1942, the famous "Ace of Hearts," the 6-ton Renault light tank, has stood before our Post Headquarters, the same spot which

TANEYTOWN YOUTH FOUND "NOT GUILTY"

A Taneytown R. 1 youth, Roland Lee Bollinger, who had pleaded guilty to the charge and stood up in Adams County Court Saturday to receive sentence, this morning, following a trial, was found innocent of a failure to reveal identity at the scene of an accident charge brought against him.

Bollinger had signed a plea of guilty to the charge and was ready for sentencing Saturday with Borough Policeman Ralph L. Fisel who had paced the charge, giving the court details of the offense. Officer Fisel indicated that while he had brought the charge as the result of investigation requested by the owner of the other car involved he had advised Bollinger to see an attorney in the matter because he felt there might be some extenuating circumstance. There was no damage involved in the case, Fisel said, with the cars merely touching bumpers.

Asked by the court whether he knew the two cars had collided Bollinger said he did not and others in the car had told him the vehicles had not touched when he came close to the second car.

Mummert Guilty
The court then directed that the matter be brought to trial without a jury this morning in order to get the testimony of all the witnesses. Following the trial today, Bollinger was found innocent.

Richard Paul Mummert, Hanover R. 3, was found guilty this morning of stealing several army blankets from his neighbor's side of the attic in a double house following a trial that began Friday afternoon. The court postponed sentence. Mrs. Thelma Hildebrand, Hanover R. 3, who had brought a theft of a wrist-watch charge against Mummert was directed to pay the costs in that case. The larceny of a wristwatch charge was thrown out during the Mummert trial.

Petitions were received by the court for parole of Wayne Frederick Taylor, Flora Dale; Robert Lee Smith, Gardners R. 1, and Richard Paul Black, Bendersville, all sentenced in January to a year in the Allegheny County workhouse on charges of assault and battery brought following the beating of a White Hall youth at Bonneville, September 20 was set as the time for a hearing.

The bride wore a dark blue suit with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Baltimore St., were the attendants. Mrs. Miller, a sister of the bride, wore a blue suit, blue accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The couple, who spent the week end in Maryland, are living at 235 E. Middle St. Mrs. Creager attended Gettysburg High School and her husband was graduated from the local institution in June. He is employed by the Adams Electric Co-operative, Gettysburg.

bodied young man to put in a military service stint and then join the reserve. The White House said at the time the program Hannah set forth as a plan to thwart any Soviet aggression was under consideration by the National Security Council but that no final decision had been reached on whether to submit it to Congress in that form.

Interrupts Vacation
Eisenhower interrupted his Colorado vacation for 24 hours to fly back to Washington to address the Legion. In his address he also gave France another prod in the hope of winning ratification of the European army project by that nation.

Without mentioning that country by name, he said progress on the six-nation project "has not fulfilled our hopes." He also declared that in the struggle for free world security and peace, "neither the ups nor downs justify any slackening of our efforts."

Dealing with the European situation and collective security generally, he said:

"The safety of any single nation in the free world depends directly on the substantial unity of all the nations in the free world. No nation outside the Iron Curtain can afford to be indifferent to the fate of any other nation devoted to freedom.

Can't Ignore Others
"If each, ignoring all others, pursues only its own course toward its own ends, the Communists have unlimited opportunity to turn the full force of their power upon any selected victim. Each, beginning with the weakest and most exposed might then succumb in turn, until the strongest of all — ourselves — would be left alone to face a hostile world.

"The final result would be fearful to contemplate. We will never permit it to happen."

He said that because of the strength and the wealth of the United States, it has imposed upon it a heavy share of the whole burden of free world security.

Then, turning to how the United States measures up to the task, he painted this bright picture:

Best Fighting Force
"Today the United States has the most powerful and the most efficient fighting force it has ever maintained short of all-out war. In fact, in some respects it is the most powerful ever developed.

"We have an Air Force of growing effectiveness. It has 50 per cent more jets than last year. It possesses awesome power.

"We have a mighty Navy, with 13,000 active aircraft. It is a world leader in nuclear propulsion.

"We have our strongest peace-time Army, equipped with modern weapons, trained under modern doctrine. It is capable of carrying out its assignments in the modern world.

"We have a Marine Corps, tough and strong, rightly proud of its esprit and readiness.

"All this power is supported by

of the world's most noted Tankers, the late General George S. Patton Jr.

Tinge of Old Hickory
"Louisiana obtained its soil from the battlefield where Old Hickory defeated the British in the Battle of New Orleans.

"Kentucky turned to Fort Knox, present headquarters of armor, to other appropriate places in the state for a representative blend of Kentucky.

"North Dakota obtained its soil from Fort Lincoln, headquarters of General Custer's forces before the famous Last Stand at the battle of the Little Big Horn. South Dakota, from the site of the Battle of the Little Big Horn, where Custer's men died fighting to the last man.

"I wish time permitted me to describe every pound of earth sent here today and to convey the personal best wishes and greetings sent by the Governors of the states. But I cannot keep you that long.

"The response to this request for soil reflects the high patriotism which Americans feel in this unsettled period. It shows a desire on the part of Americans to meet the future with the same courage and endurance which have been characteristic of Americans in other periods of danger.

"This tree, nurtured by the soil of all our great states is an appropriate symbol for the gallant Americans who manned the tanks in three wars. I am honored to dedicate it in the name of our beloved Camp Colt Commander, President Eisenhower, at whose old headquarters it stands. May it flourish long in this great Sacred Garden of American military history."

developing intelligence and warning systems of constantly increasing effectiveness and scope."

Something like 25,000 Legionnaires and members of their families—more than ever before, the delegates brought wives and children—thronged Washington for the opening of the four-day convention, the first ever held here. The number is expected to swell to 150,000 before it's over.

THE
COLUMN

By Dave Garfinkle

Each year at least a million people, young and old, purchase their first camera and enter the ranks of the amateur photographers. Many of these newcomers will always remain only half-interested . . . and their pictures will show it.

Some, however, will be disgusted with those first blurry snapshots and will want to do better.

In the next few columns we'd like to talk to those beginners about changing those blurry prints into crisp, story-telling pictures. Let's start with the preliminaries. First of all, study the instruction booklet that comes with your camera. The manufacturer spent money and time making up that booklet, and its object is to make you satisfied. Too many new camera owners just throw the instructions away.

Next, practice with your camera . . . without any film. Examine different objects through the viewfinder. Practice focusing if it's a focusing camera. Make different lens adjustments, shutter speed adjustments, and snap the shutter experimentally. Go through all the motions, just as they're described in the instructions.

A waste of time? Far from it. This practice will give you the "feel" of that new camera, until you can focus, make exposure adjustments, frame your subject in the viewfinder and squeeze the shutter almost automatically. Then, and only then, are you ready for that first role of film.

See us for that new, better camera . . . and for your supply of film. Let us help you join the ranks of the good amateurs. DAVE'S PHOTO SUPPLY, 52 Chambersburg St., Gettysburg, Phone 83-W.

of the 48 states and dedicated in honor of the commanding officer, Captain Dwight D. Eisenhower, who on January 2, 1953 was inaugurated as 34th President of the United States of America. This living testimonial is a tribute of the affection and high esteem of his 1918 Tank Corps comrades. World War Tank Corps Association. Dedicated August 28, 1954."

General Parks' talk highlighted the dinner at the Hotel with Retiring President Glenn Hutton, presiding. Incoming President John C. Felton was among the speakers.

A gift of $100 was made to National Adjutant Thomas White, as a small token of appreciation for the outstanding work he has done for the organization.

Wedding Anniversary

Miss Mary Lou Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Spangler, Gettysburg R. D. was the featured vocalist, singing "Graceland" and "I Love You Truly," which she announced as being in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Berger, who observed their 35th wedding anniversary Saturday. Berg-er, formerly of Gettysburg, is assistant national adjutant of the tankers.

A pin of the tank corps offered for auction by Berger during the course of the evening brought $30 into the coffers of the national association.

Among those singled out for special praise in connection with the reunion were Mrs. S. E. Kapp, assisted by Mrs. Paul Roy and Mrs. Richard Cole, who handled the registration; Paul L. Roy, who handled publicity; Miss Anne Faber, Miss Patricia Bushey and Mary Howe, of Chambersburg, for their duties in connection with the entertainment program; Col. L. J. Mul-tall and Lt. Lawrence Houston, PIO officers at Fort Meade and national publicity directors for the affair who arranged for the collection of soil from all the states; the general committee members for the reunion, including National Commander Felton, Leo McDer-mitt for providing a record; members of the tank corps who in World War I won the distinguish service cross and other decorations for outstanding service to their country, and Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Gettysburg National Park, for his services.

Coming Back To Gettysburg
Hutton praised "all of Gettysburg for the wonderful reception given us here. The town really rolled out the red carpet for us and we are coming back for more reunions." Incoming Commander Felton also echoed the "we are coming back" remark.

The invocation given by Rev. Mr. Meredith at the battlefield ceremonies follows:

"Almighty God, our heavenly Father, we ask Thy blessing upon the events of these days and the occasion of these moments as we re-live the memories of the past, renew old acquaintances, and recall the accomplishments of the years.

"We seek Thy further blessing as we dedicate this element of Thy natural world, a tree, to the purpose intended and the occasion; and humbly ask that we may be ever mindful of the challenge before us. "Cause us to strive for fellowship, unity, and peace, so that we may strengthen our own great country and bring a way of peace and brotherhood to all Thy people throughout the world.

"These things we ask in the name of Christ our Lord. Amen."

The benediction given by the Rev. Fr. Kane follows:

"We pray thee, O God of might, wisdom and justice, through Whom authority is rightly administered, laws are enacted, and judgments decreed, assist with Thy Holy Spirit of counsel and fortitude the president of these United States, that his administration may be conducted in righteousness and be eminently useful to Thy people, over whom he presides, by encouraging due respect for virtue and religion; by a faithful execution of the laws in justice and mercy; and by restraining vice and immorality.

"Let the light of Thy divine wisdom direct the Congress of the United States, their Excellencies, the Governors of the various states and state assemblies, and all others who are appointed to guard our political welfare and shine forth in all the proceedings and laws framed for our rule and government; so that they may tend to the preservation of peace, the promotion of national happiness and may perpetuate to us the blessings of equal liberty. Through Christ Our Lord, Amen."

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Tannery of the Messrs. Rupp: We had the pleasure of visiting the tannery of our industrious and enterprising citizens, Messrs. Henry and John Rupp, situated in the southern part of the town, and viewing the improvements lately made by them.—Among the most important is the application of steam for the more speedy and better accomplishments of their design. . . . The engine is made in such a manner as to consume the tan—formerly of no use after being taken from the vats—thus saving the expense of purchasing wood or coal. The tan is thrown in wet or dry, and in a few moments is completely on fire, furnishing sufficient heat to keep the machine in operation. . . . They apply the power for the purpose of grinding bark, rolling leather, breaking hides, etc. They are able to grind at least 10 cords of bark a day, more than a sufficient quantity for their use. The whistle of the engine is heard all through the town, creating as much sensation, as if a regular train of cars were entering the Borough.

Married: On Tuesday, by Rev. Jacob Ziegler, Mr. George Wilson, to Miss Mary Brown—both of this place.

On the 24th inst., by Rev. C. J. Deininger, Mr. Andrew F. Reeser to Miss Mary K. Bolster—both of East Berlin.

On the 24th inst., by Rev. J. Ulrich, Mr. Gabriel Smith, to Mrs. Barbara Harbold—both of this county.

On the same day, by the same, Mr. John Shuff, to Miss Catharine Wallet—both of this county.

Hot Weather. Tuesday last was oppressively hot. The mercury was 98° in this place. The heat continued excessive all week. On Wednesday 91, Thursday 92, and Friday 100—being within a half a degree of the hottest day of the season.

Monterey Springs.—We learn that Mr. David S. Gordon, formerly of Hagerstown, has purchased Monterey Springs from Mr. Buhman, for the sum of $15,000.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

On Tuesday the Adams County Medical Society held its annual meeting in the court-house. The following officers were elected: President, I. W. Pearson, of York Springs; Vice Presidents, James Weddle, of Middletown, and J. M. Radebaugh, of Gettysburg; Cor. Sec'y, J. W. C. O'Neal, of Gettysburg; Rec. Sec'y, Jno. E. Gilbert, of Gettysburg; Treas., E. W. Mumma, of Bendersville.

Sad Accident: On Thursday evening Robert R., aged 10 years, son of James Bigham, of this place, met with a sad accident near the Lime-Kilns. Mr. Bigham had received several car loads of phosphate, and in order to remove the same from the borough limits promptly, in compliance with the borough ordinance, had two teams at work. Robert was on one of them and catching hold of the brake was thrown forward under the hind wheel, which passed over his left leg, crushing it between the ankle and knee, and causing a compound fracture of the bones. Drs. Horner and Radebaugh adjusted the fracture and the lad is doing well.

Local Items: The President's residence on the college campus is having a new tin roof.

The borough of York wants street cars.

The Ahl properties were not sold by the Sheriff—the proceedings being again stayed.

The County Commissioners have decided to have the Court-house repaired.

Col. McClellan's hall is rapidly approaching completion.

"The Citizens' Band" has been organized in this place, and Mr. W. F. Hill is to be the musical director.

Lieut. Platt of the 10th Cavalry, has been directed to take charge of a school for young Indians, to be opened at Carlisle.

On Thursday a number of boys from Mt. St. Mary's College, accompanied by a tutor, visited Gettysburg. They came on the Em-

Today's Talk

GIVE SOMETHING BACK

In reading an interesting article by John Gunther on Albert Schweitzer I came across a most significant statement that this great man had made. Here was a man already distinguished and widely known in Europe giving up everything in order to go into the wilds of Africa and establish a hospital to care for natives to whom no one else had ever given a thought as to their health.

Asked why he had given up his great career, so promising in so many lines—theology, music, medicine, and literature—Dr. Schweitzer said he felt he should give "something in return" for all the happiness he had received. How wonderful it would be if we all adopted that plan. The history of the world would be changed overnight!

I believe that we are constantly receiving blessings for which we offer or actually give back little. We are indebted to both God and man for all we have received from day to day. Think of the riches that are stored in libraries and museums all over the world. And to most of them we can go and partake of those riches as free gifts.

All history is full of the brave feats and sacrifices of other human beings, many of them giving their all that a better world might be bequeathed to those who followed them. Upon the campus of Yale University stands the noble statue of Nathan Hale with that famous line of his: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." Think for a moment what that young man gave back! To him all lovers of liberty are indebted.

To those who gave us birth and who nurtured us through those first years of life, we owe more than we can ever repay. Nothing is asked—but loyalty and appreciation. So easy to give, yet withheld so often!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "People New to Us"

GOLFING PAUL REVERE

Listen, my children, and you shall hear

About a modern Paul Revere
And how a good friend gave to me
A golf-cart ride from tee to tee.
No lighted lanterns hung to show
The foe's approach and time to go.
No waiting by a saddled horse.
Just this: "Get in and ride the course."

From tee to green, from green to tee

My proud companion chaffered me.

While others down the fairways walked

At ease we shared the cart and talked.

Around and up and down he steered.

The dangerous bunker rims he cleared.

And every time a put he made

The cart and I were in the shade.

I used to say: (and thought it wise)

That I played golf for exercise

And this remark I'd often make:

"I walk the course for friendship's sake."

But now with wisdom more profound

I say it's nice to ride around.

Provide the cart, and friend to steer.

I'll be a golfing Paul Revere.

The public schools of the borough will commence on Monday next, Sept. 1st. The inside woodwork of the school building has been repainted and the walls white-washed during the vacation. At a recent meeting of the board, it was wisely determined not to make any changes in the text books at the present time.

On Saturday evening there was a pleasant entertainment consisting of charades and winding up with a masked ball. We hear that some of the characters in the charades were capably sustained.

WOOD ATTACKS

EARLE REGIME

AT GOP DINNER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republicans injected the Democratic administration of former Gov. George H. Earle into the 1954 political campaign over the weekend.

Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood said in a speech to the Pennsylvania Federation of Young Republican Clubs Saturday night:

"The weird story of graft and corruption which blanketed the Democratic state administration between 1935 and 1939 can never be erased. It will forever blot the good name of this fair state. Now the Pennsylvania Democrats attempt to come before the voters with clean hands."

"Compare the record of the Republican party since the Democrats were driven out in 1939. No evidence of corruption and graft, nor proof of wastefulness nor mismanagement such as was developed during the Democratic regime. No inefficiency nor political subterfuge to mislead the people."

"Facts, Not Smear"

Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, said in a statement that Wood and other GOP candidates would base their campaign "on facts, not smears."

"The great record of accomplishments for the welfare of the people which the Republican party has amassed in both state and nation will make it unnecessary for the Republican candidates to stoop to gutter language and name-calling to attract attention," Horst said.

He pointed to what he termed "the impressive" Republican record in the state, citing the state's highway system, new school construction, protection for workers who are injured or become unemployed, help for farmers, and small businesses and new construction at mental hospitals.

"The preservation and expansion of these great accomplishments of the Republican party is our message," Horst said.

Elect Chairmen

H. Clifton McWilliams Jr., Johnstown attorney, was elected chairman of the Young Republican Clubs, defeating Richard Grifo, Easton, 212-97. McWilliams succeeded Enoch H. Thomas Jr., Wilkes-Barre.

D. Jane Stabley, Lancaster, was elected vice chairman. Imogene Woodard, Uniontown, withdrew from the contest before the balloting.

Other officers elected were: Robert Scheipe, Pottsville, national committeeman; Rosemary Maxon, Pittsburgh, national committeewoman; Marie Murrell, Sharon, secretary; Campbell Reed, Canonsburg, treasurer; Ans Arthur Olson, Blair County, assistant treasurer.

Directors named were: Richard Schweiker, Montgomery County; William Meehan, Philadelphia; George Lynch, Bucks County; Robert Webster, Fayette County; Robert Sullivan, Lebanon County; Samuel Bonavita, Warren County; Leonard Otis, Erie County; Joseph J. Gale, Luzerne County; Richard Newton, McKean County; Edward Marion, Dauphin County; and H. K. Young, Indiana County.

Ike Pleased With Shivers Re-Election

DALLAS (AP)—President Eisenhower is "highly pleased" at the re-election of Texas Gov. Allan Shivers, a conservative Democrat who supported Republican Eisenhower in the 1952 presidential election.

It was a runoff election in which Shivers won an unprecedented — in Texas — third elective two-year term and Yarborough failed a second straight time to unseat him.

The latest tabulation of the Texas Election Bureau, an unofficial vote-counting agency, showed Shivers had a lead of 93-240 votes—771,569 for Shivers to 678,329 for Yarborough.

Estranged Wife Is Found Unconscious

READING, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Virginia Freese, 30, whose suitor was shot and critically wounded by her estranged husband last Friday, was found unconscious at her nearby Alacuse Twp. home yesterday from what police said was an overdose of sleeping tablets.

The woman, who was reported in good condition at St. Joseph's Hospital, Reading, was found by her mother, Mrs. Adam Herb.

Mrs. Freese's husband, John W., 42, is being held in Berks County jail on an open charge pending the outcome of the shooting.

Police said Edward M. Doll, 35, Reading truck driver, was wounded by a 16-gauge shotgun fired by Freese into the man's chest. Doll was reported in serious condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A 25-year-old railroad electrician suffered first and second degree burns over about 35 per cent of his body last night while trying to put out a fire.

A Pennsylvania Railroad spokesman said Madden was burned while fighting a tractor fire in the lower level of the railroad's passenger station here.

SENATE STARTS NEW M'CARTHY STUDY TUESDAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said Saturday witnesses are being subpoenaed for the start Tuesday of public hearings in a new Senate investigation of the conduct of Sen. McCarthy.

Watkins, chairman of a special six-man committee that will look into charges aimed at McCarthy by three fellow senators, declined to name the witnesses summoned.

The bipartisan Watkins committee will start its inquiry shortly before another group — the Senate Investigations subcommittee — publishes Republican majority and Democratic minority reports on 36 days of hearings into the McCarthy-Army controversy.

3,500 Word Report

The McCarthy-Army verdict is scheduled to be made public Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

The four Republican members have filed a 3,500-word report with J. Mark Trice, secretary of the Senate, to be kept under seal until a 5 p.m. deadline Monday.

Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, the senior of the subcommittee's three Democratic members, said the minority report will not be completed until a few hours before the Monday deadline. He declined to discuss reports that it is taking a form sharply different from the Republicans' findings. But he told newsmen, "our report may cover some aspects that are absent from the majority report."

McClellan mentioned "an outside chance" that Democratic members may file individual statements findings on one or two points in addition to their joint statement.

54 ARE MISSING

MANILA (AP)—The Philippine News Service reported today that 54 persons are missing after a motor launch capsized and sank yesterday in Ilanga Bay off Zamboanga del Sur province.

Sixty persons were reported aboard and six survivors were said to have been picked up today.

Silver dollars are in common use only in a few western states like Montana and Nevada.

Newlywed Couple Separated By TB

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—An American soldier and his Japanese bride lived separate lives today, kept apart until the soldier wins his battle against tuberculosis which he contacted while serving in Korea.

The groom, Sgt. William Hardin, Louisville, Ky., returned to his hospital bed following a simple ceremony in the hospital chapel Saturday. The bride, Isako Shirayama, 23, of Kobe, is awaiting a hearing before the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The romance started when Hardin, 32, was stationed in Kobe. He and Isako planned to marry then, but he was sent to Korea. He has been in Valley Forge Hospital since last February.

Isako decided to join her fiancé, but Hawaiian immigration authorities ruled she had violated terms of her visa in coming here specifically to marry Hardin. She is here under $500 bond pending an appeal of that ruling.

Two Buildings At Quincy Dedicated

QUINCY, Pa. (AP)—A $200,000 elementary school building and a $80,000 cottage for the aged were dedicated at the Evangelical United Brethren Orphanage and Home here yesterday.

Some 800 persons attended the service conducted by Bishop George E. Epp, Harrisburg, of the Eastern Area of the EUB church. The money for the school was donated by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Winter, Red Lion, Lancaster County.

Dr. Paul B. Shannon, York, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Conference of the EUB, praised the Winters for their "Christian donation."

DEMOCRATS TO SEEK FARM VOTE

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (AP)—Midwestern Democratic leaders meet here Saturday to start a drive for the farm vote in November, but uncertain as to whether they stand united on an agricultural issue.

This uncertainty was supplied mainly by Adlai Stevenson, the party's titular leader and the principal speaker at a convocation drawing many candidates for Congress from 15 states—from Indiana to Wyoming and North Dakota and Minnesota to Oklahoma.

Many of the leaders wanted the party to go all out in making the Eisenhower administration's farm program the big issue in a fall campaign in which Democrats hope to regain control of Congress.

They propose to make the party's main attack—in farming areas—on flexible farm price supports which the GOP-controlled Congress recently passed at the behest of President Eisenhower.

But was Stevenson ready and willing to go along with them on this particular issue?

Stevenson never has flatly committed himself on the issue of high vs. flexible supports. Hence there is uncertainty as to what he might say in his talk.

Democrats in Congress are themselves divided on the price support issue, although a majority voted against the flexible floors when the question came up recently, and fought unsuccessfully for retention of high floors set under the Roosevelt regime.

Yanks Beat White Sox But Indians Take Pair For 4-Game Lead With 25 Games To Play

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees aren't conceding the American League flag to Cleveland but the first seed of doubt is beginning to grow in the minds of the defending champions.

This suspicion was gleaned from a remark by Allie Reynolds, veteran Yankee pitcher, who said that he believed the Indians would win the pennant.

"If they (the Indians) continue at this terrific pace," he said, "they deserve to win."

May Smash Record
Reynolds was referring of course, to Cleveland's sensational .721 winning percentage, a pace never before attained by an American League club. Should the Indians continue at this pace through the end of the season, they will smash the league record of 110 victories turned in by the 1927 Yankees.

The Yankees, traveling at a .660 pace, a feat never before reached by a runner-up club, defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-1 yesterday but they lost ground to the Indians. While the Yankees were winning their sixth straight, the Tribe was extending its own consecutive victory string to 10 in Boston's Fenway Park, walloping the Red Sox twice, 6-2 and 9-1.

This gave the Indians a four-game lead over the Yankees. Both teams have 25 left to play.

Other Race Tighens
The National League race continued to tighten as the on-charge Brooklyn Dodgers whipped the Braves in Milwaukee 12-4 and 11-4 to pull up to 1½ games behind the front-running New York Giants. The best the New Yorkers could do was gain a split in St. Louis after dropping an 11-inning 5-4 decision to the Cardinals. They overcame a 3-1 deficit to win the nightcap 7-4.

Cincinnati's Redlegs strength ended their hold on fourth place, defeating Philadelphia 3-2 and 8-4. Chicago's Cubs came from behind twice to sweep a twin bill from Pittsburgh 7-4 and 4-1.

In a wild double-header Tigers took two from Philadelphia's Athletics 14-3 and 2-1 and wrested fourth place from the Red Sox by one percentage point. Baltimore, fresh from 16 losses in its last 17 games, surprised Washington with 8-4 and 5-0 victories.

Lemon's 11th Straight
In Boston, Bob Lemon scattered eight hits in the opener for Cleveland. It was his 11th straight victory and made him the majors' first 20-game winner. He and teammate Bob Feller are the only active six-time 20-game winners.

Until the sixth, when the Indians erupted for three runs on homers by Larry Doby (No. 29) and Vic Wertz (No. 10) Lemon was hooked up in a 2-2 pitching duel with rookie Tom Brewer. Wertz hit home run No. 11 in the second game to help Art Houtteman gain his 14th triumph with a six-victory.

The Yankees finally beat Virgil Trucks on the hitting of Yogi Berra and the pitching of Whitey Ford. Ford hurled a neat six-hitter for his 15th victory. Berra doubled in the first two runs and scored another. Trucks was whipped the Yankees three times, two by shutouts.

New Attendance Mark
A capacity crowd of 45,922 crestfallen Braves fans witnessed the Dodger sweep that dropped third-place Milwaukee 7½ lengths behind the Giants. The turnout boosted Milwaukee's home attendance to 1,841,666, setting a new National League record for the second successive year.

The Dodgers blasted 11 Milwaukee pitchers for 29 hits in the double-header. Four of them were homers, two by Duke Snider, one by Gil Hodges and one by Rube Walker. Snider batted in three runs in each game. The Brooks rang up eight runs in the 11th inning of the opener after the Braves had rallied for two runs in the ninth to tie the score at 4-4. Billy Loees breezed to his 11th victory in 14 decisions with a nine-hitter in the nightcap.

Alex Grammas' 11th-inning single drove in the winning run for St. Louis in the opener after Stan Musial's second homer of the game had tied the score in the 10th inning. Dusty Rhodes, whose two triples had gone to waste in the first game, led the Giants' attack in the second with two homers and two doubles. Willie Mays hit his 39th homer for New York in the opener.

Kluszewski Ties Mays
Ted Kluszewski smashed two homers, his 38th and 39th, to tie Mays for the league lead in Cincinnati's double win. Rookie Art Fowler outpitched Robin Roberts, Philadelphia's 18-game winner, in the opener.

Bob Wilson hit two homers, one a grand-slammer, doubled, and drove in six runs to help Steve Gromek win his 15th game for Detroit. Gromek precipitated a near riot in the ninth when he charged out to Marion Fricano after the Philadelphia pitcher had hit him with a pitched ball in the ninth. Gromek threw several punches before the two combatants wrestled to the ground. Players from both benches joined the fracas. After peace was restored, both pitchers were ejected.

Orlando catcher Clint Courtney backed up Joe Coleman's shutout pitching against Washington with five hits in five times at bat in the nightcap. Cal Abrams and Gil Coan had three hits apiece in Baltimore's first-game victory.

JOE BACH QUILTS AS HEAD COACH OF STEELERS

OLEAN, N.Y., (AP)—Balding Joe Bach, who took two cracks at the job, quit last night as head coach of Pittsburgh's National Football League entry and line mentor Walter Kiesling, self-styled "old man" of the coaching staff, moved out to replace him.

In announcing Bach's resignation, President Art Rooney of the Steelers said:
"The pressure is just too tough now. In the old days a win or loss didn't matter too much. Now it's a cold-blooded business."

The Steelers had just returned to their training camp after dropping their third straight exhibition game to the Green Bay Packers, 36-14, at Pittsburgh Saturday night. Many in the slim crowd of 14,012 booed and jeered the Steelers. The Steeler management also reportedly was concerned over the lack of attendance.

Lost 2 Other Games
Pittsburgh previously lost to the Chicago Bears, 21-14, and the Baltimore Colts, 27-21.

Bach, 53, who had been coaching for nearly 30 years, joined the Steelers for the 1952 season after two years at St. Bonaventure College here. He succeeded Johnny Mitchell when he resigned.

It was the second time Bach was called upon to coach Pittsburgh. He directed the Steel City team, known then as the Pirates, during the 1935-36 seasons.

Bach said Rooney offered him a job as a scout for the Steelers but that he asked for time to think it over. He didn't indicate whether he had any other coaching prospects.

Coach Steelers Before
Kiesling, 50-year-old veteran of 29 seasons in pro football as player and coach, twice before served in the top coaching spot for the Steelers when head tutors left.

He replaced Johnny Blood in 1939 and Aldo Donelli in 1941. The following two years he was co-coach when Pittsburgh combined with Philadelphia and then with the Chicago Cardinals.

Bach held coaching jobs at Duquesne University, Carnegie Tech and Niagara University before going into professional football. He spent seven years with Detroit, Boston and New York and moved to St. Bonaventure in 1950.

In his 1935-36 stint with the Steelers, Bach's teams won 10 and lost 14. His 1932 record was 5-7 and his 1933 mark 6-6.

Garden And Building News

| House | 23,000 ft. |
| Garage | 4,000 ft. |

One of the most attractive features of "The Casper," from both the exterior and the interior, is the large picture window in the front wall of the living room. Measuring 20'x13'4", the living and dining room is very charming; it has a handsome fireplace in the back wall and china cabinets built into both front corners. The room is planned so that it can serve as both a living and dining area.

With dimensions of 46'x26', the house itself has a cubage of 23,000 feet. Measuring 21'x11'6", the one-car garage has a cubage of 4,000 feet. At least a 90-foot lot would be required to hold both the house and attached garage. Should you decide to build a detached garage, you'd need a larger lot.

In addition to two large bedrooms in the right wing of the house, "The Casper" has an 11'4"x10' room which is located between the kitchen and bath and which can serve as a third bedroom, a den or a guest room. Both regular bedrooms reap the benefits of cross ventilation while the optional bedroom enjoys good light and ventilation from double windows in the back wall.

Carefully arranged so that all appliances, tools, etc. are within easy reach of the housewife, the kitchen is strictly a work center. Set apart so that it actually is a room by itself the breakfast area can be used for all informal meals.

Instead of opening on an entry hall, the front door of "The Casper" leads to an enclosed porch which can be just as attractive and useful as you want to make it. Perhaps you'd like to use this room as a play area, a music or TV room—or maybe you'd prefer to utilize this space as your dining room and thus leave the living room free for purely social usage.

Located at the back of the house and next to the kitchen, the utility room receives ample light and ventilation from one window in the back wall. Direct access to the back yard is provided by the service entry in the left wall. A small porch way protects both this service entry and the back door into the 20'x11' garage.

The abundance of conveniently located closet in "The Casper" is certain to delight the lady of the house. She'll be especially pleased by the spacious linen closet opening on the hallway just across from the bathroom. She'll also put to good use the general purpose closet opening on the hallway between the two bedrooms; this closet will prove to be especially practical if it is lined with cedar.

While the only installation that you must have made in the basement is the heating plant, you'll welcome the large amount of "extra" space which you can transform into a family recreation room—or perhaps a workshop for that home handyman—and still have room left for that deep freezer and for general storage. The heating plant should, of course, be installed under the living room but choice of location for any other basement "installation" is up to you.

For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 18, The Gettysburg Times and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

HALL DECLARES GOP ELECTION HOPES ARE GOOD

By JACK BELL
CINCINNATI (AP)—National Chairman Leonard W. Hall keynoted a Republican party campaign pep rally here today by accusing congressional Democrats of using "vast cunning" in attempts "to make our anti-Communist legislation unworkable."

Hall called on party committeemen and state chairmen to "re-affirm our standing pledge of campaign ethics." But he said in a speech prepared for a workshop conference here that the Republicans are "not going to hang up the gloves" in what President Eisenhower said was the "crucial struggle" for control of Congress.

As a possible example of what he had in mind, Hall said he was happy to report that the Republicans have "no ragtag, bobtail hangers-on of the left-wing ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) persuasion to confuse us with calls for recognition of Red China and for scuttling the administration's hard-hitting antisubversive program."

Aimed At Democrats
The GOP chairman did not spell out his indictment fully, but his thrust about making anti-Communist legislation "unworkable" obviously was aimed at Senate Democrats, headed by Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who forced through a measure to strip the Communist party of its legal rights.

The Democrats did not succeed in getting final approval of their original proposal to make membership in the party a crime. The measure, as amended, stripped the Communist party of legal status. But Democrats hailed its passage as a political coup which would answer Republican charges they had been soft toward the Reds.

Hall got down to cases with a prediction to a conference of Western committee members that the Republicans will gain from 15 to 25 seats in the House, where the lineup now stands at 218 Republicans, 213 Democrats, 1 independent and 3 vacancies.

Senate Chances Good
He said that in his view "the Senate looks better than the House," so far as Republican chances go, since he said several Democratic senators—including Humphrey in Minnesota and Paul Douglas in Illinois—are seeking re-election in states where the Republicans have control of the state governments.

As other Republican leaders have, Hall stressed a peace-and-prosperity slogan for GOP candidates.

He said the Eisenhower administration had "stopped inflation dead in its tracks" while at the same time making a readjustment from the Korean War economy to a peacetime economy.

"Militarily, our forces have been shrewdly redesigned and deployed to meet any global threat," he declared. "Our crushing military budget has been personally scrutinized by a soldier-president who knows his country's needs."

Thousands Of Housewives, Maids, Cooks, Carpenters Must Pay SS Tax Next Year

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Many more thousands of housewives and their part-time domestic employees—like maids, cooks, gardeners—must start paying a social security tax on their employee's earnings in 1955.

That's because Congress recently changed the social security law covering domestic employees to bring more of them under the protection of the social security system.

The change goes into effect next Jan. 1. This is what it means, keeping in mind that the first calendar quarter is January through March.

Limit Earnings
If after Jan. 1 a domestic employee earns as much as $50 from one employer in a three-month quarter, then both the employer and the employee must each pay a tax of 2 per cent—total of 4 per cent—on the employee's earnings.

In one quarter a domestic employee may not earn as much as $50 from one employer; in another quarter she may earn that much or more. The tax has to be paid for each quarter—but only that quarter—in which $50 or more is earned.

In every case it is the housewife, not the maid, who must actually send in the tax money. The maid can give the housewife her share or the housewife can deduct the formerly was Headquarters of the famed 68th Infantry. Meade has always been considered one of the founding sites of Armor in the United States Army. Many of the original tankers were processed at Meade into the 65th Engineers, the special Regiment created in early 1918 to handle tank warfare, and which grew into the Tank Corps.

Morale Value

I mention these items, not to detract from any of the glory of old Camp Colt, but merely to emphasize that the deeds of the officers and men of the first World War have not been forgotten.

This historic awareness has more than a sentimental value. Today one of the major problems of the Army is to heighten unit spirit. When the Third Armored Cavalry Regiment returned to Meade this past spring—bringing with it, incidentally, one of the most historically colorful records in the history of Armor—members of the unit certainly couldn't help noticing this high respect paid to tankers of the past.

All these reminders—the homage to famous fighting men—create an esprit among our present combat forces. They build up traditions and a residue of historical memories which are as important, in their own way, as first-rate materiel and first-rate leadership. As General Ridgway, Army Chief of Staff, recently said, morale is in many ways the most decisive element in warfare.

Spirit Brings Victory

I would like to quote from him on this subject.

"Morale is not achieved by order. It is not something that comes from without. It germinates in the human heart—it feeds on the human spirit—it draws sustenance from kith and kin—it is intangible—a spiritual strength that enables men to endure sacrifices up to death for the things they hold dear. It springs from a clear realization of what is most precious in life—what is worth fighting for, what is worth more than life. It comes from a faith in the ideals and spiritual values which have made our nation great and which have sustained us in every crisis... This is the spirit which makes sacrifice acceptable, hardship endurable, which overcomes doubt and the misgivings of timid hearts. This is the spirit which brings victory..."

In the light of these stirring words, a reunion of this nature assumes greater significance and stature. In gathering here at Gettysburg, you not only pay homage to past deeds, but in doing so create an element of historical continuity which reaches into the future. By lending perspective through an awareness of the past, you help to sustain and heighten, among our present combat troops, that decisive element of morale which General Ridgway described so eloquently.

Many of you here reach back, in memory at least, to the days when tanks were quite different from those of the present day. It might be interesting to point out the differences, to show you how the tank has evolved during the past decades.

Tanks Compared

By way of contrast, let us start with the first tank. The first modern tank was produced by the British in 1916. It weighed about 30 tons, was 32 1/2 feet long, 11 feet wide, carried two six-pounder naval guns and four machine guns, and had a maximum speed of 3.7 miles an hour, with a gas tank capacity of 53 gallons which was sufficient for the vehicle to travel 12 miles. This was the beginning of the Mark tank series.

Now let us take a look at one of the new Patton mediums. It weighs between 45 and 50 tons, with a full combat load. Its design is elliptical to deflect enemy shells. It mounts a 90mm gun, along with .50 and .30 machine guns. It has an 810 horsepower V-12 aircooled engine. It has a precision optical and mechanical range finder system. It has a two-way radio transmitting and receiving equipment and an intra-tank transmitter phone.

Here's what it was able to do in its first public demonstration: Climb a three-foot wall and bridge a 96-inch trench.

Move through a water hazard in which water was more than four feet deep.

Pivot through a group of pylons; Negotiate a ditch 10 feet deep, descending and surmounting a 40 per cent slope.

Travel along a heavy washboard track; Splash through a water hazard at high speed.

Pivots Like Soldier

The gunner of today can get on the target in five seconds. Precision sights, combining optical instruments with power controls, will enable him to fire the vital first shot in a tank duel. The gun and sights are accurate enough to hit a target the size of a bushel basket at 2,000 yards, usually the maximum range at which tank meets tank.

This 50-ton tank can pivot on its own axis, like a soldier doing an about-face. Its speed is 35 miles an hour, or more when it is needed in combat. It is quite a vehicle.

Looking back to World War I days, when Americans were fighting in borrowed armor, one can say that the tank has come a long way in its development. An example of the terrible handicaps of tank operations in those days is found in the very first action in which Americans participated.

First in Action

The first Americans to go into action were members of the 304th USA Tank Brigade, who had been trained at Bourg, France. They met the Germans on September 12th, 1918, at St. Mihiel. They were equipped with 9 Renaults, 36 St. Chaumonts, and 24 Schneiders. Out of this number 43 went out of action because of mechanical trouble, or because of ditching. About 72 were destroyed by land mines or by direct hits from German 77s. Only 25 tanks managed to reach Nonsard in advance of the infantry.

This action, of course, does not tell the real story. Behind this operation—feeble as its results were—was a determination on the part of the Americans to develop armor to its fullest capability. It took a long time, and for years the picture was very gloomy indeed, but in World War II American armor reached a high peak.

At the apex of World War II strength, there were 16 Armored divisions, in addition to the Armored Center and School at Fort Knox. The school alone was responsible for training more than 35,000 soldiers to be tank leaders, gunners, radiomen, drivers and mechanics, during the war years. Twelve thousand new Armor second lieutenants were created by the Armor Officer Candidate School in this same period.

Affinity With Armor

I have always felt a special affinity with Armor—probably because during the three phases of my career when I've been most intimately connected with it, something dramatic has always happened. Some of these events which I witnessed were for the ultimate good of Armor, some for the bad, but they were all dramatic in their way.

On March 6th, 1918, the Tank Corps of the United States Army was organized. That same month I was ordered to Camp Colt and assigned to it. My appointment as a second lieutenant in the Tank Corps came through a month later. It was here that I had the pleasure of serving under a certain commanding officer by the name of Dwight D. Eisenhower, though of course that bit of drama was unknown to us at the time. That first phase lasted until 1921. I finally wound up in command of the 7th Tank Company, at my present station of Fort Meade, then called Camp Meade.

Burial of Armor

Unfortunately, I was also present at the burial of armored warfare, during this period, when the National Defense Act of 1920 disbanded the Tank Corps, consolidating it with the Infantry.

We were fighting a tactical impact on us.

My second connection with Armor was from 1924 to 1926. That was right in the middle of a long period, when Armor was doing something contrary to its nature, fighting on the defensive. I believe that in fifteen years, between 1920 and 1935, the United States built only 31 tanks, all of which were development vehicles.

But that still didn't dim our enthusiasm, even though we had very little stuff to work with. We were always calling for higher speeds, armament of greater power, and better protection for the crew.

In my third phase with Armor from 1940 to 1941, I had the pleasure of serving under General Patton in the 2nd Armored Division. That was the period when Armor made its great comeback.

The success of armored equipment and units in the field maneuvers in Georgia and Louisiana before World War II was so obvious that something had to be done about it. The Armored Force was born on July 10th, 1940, by this simple directive from the War Department: "For the purpose of service test, an Armored Force is created."

At that time, the entire force consisted of the 7th Cavalry Brigade (Mechanized) at Fort Knox and approximately six battalions of tank units assembled at Fort Benning as a provisional tank brigade. From this meager beginning, the Armored Force grew to be the largest mechanized fighting force the world had ever known.

CRASHES OF TWO
B-36 BOMBERS
BEING PROBED

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force has sent crack investigating teams from flight safety headquarters to help probe crashes of two giant B36 bombers within 24 hours that left 25 dead and 18 injured.

One of the 10-engine planes, trying to land but crippled by apparent power failure, smashed into an open patch near a big housing project on the El Paso outskirts Saturday night. It disintegrated into a fiery, exploding heap. One crewman was killed and 15 injured.

The night before, 24 crewmen died and three were critically hurt when another B36 crashed at Rapid City, S.D., while approaching Ellsworth Air Force Base for a landing in "perfect" weather. This was the worst crashup in the history of the world's largest bomber valued at 3 1/2 million dollars.

The Air Force announced in Washington yesterday formal boards of inquiry in both smashups would be helped by teams en route from its flight safety headquarters at Norton AFB, San Bernardino, Calif.

The announcement said B36 crews last year set the lowest accident rate of any in the Strategic Air Command. For the first six months of this year, the Air Force said, the B36 accident rate was

Man Leaps To Death
From Hotel Rooftop

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ashton M. DeLoach, 63, of Camden, N.J., plunged to his death from the fire tower of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel Friday.

The victim landed on the roof of a one-story children's apparel shop adjoining the hotel building. The man's widow, Louise, told police her husband had been ill for some time.

The B36 that crashed Saturday night was from Biggs AFB near the city on the U.S.-Mexico border. It was returning from a 10-hour training flight.

Tried Emergency Landing
Base officials said it made one landing pass at Biggs, circled and started another when power failed and the commander, Maj. L. D. Lanier of El Paso, asked permission for an emergency landing at El Paso International Airport. This was granted, but the crew was unable to keep the big ship aloft.

It smashed into an unpopulated area near the International Airport and burst into flames.

The fatality was identified as A.2.C. Ronald A. Strassheim of Buffalo, N.Y.

Witnesses said the four jet engines were still running when the ship hit. Unofficial cause was placed on failure of the plane's six conventional engines.
